

Sudeera

Last November, I came to the University of Colombo that is the best university in Sri Lanka. To tell the truth, the six months in Sri Lanka is my happiest time in the college life. The University of Colombo not only provides us with a good accommodation, but also arranges for us a rich curriculum. Here I must express my heartfelt thanks to my foreign alma mater-the University of Colombo.

In the learning process, I am honored to know a lot of amiable teachers and cheerful classmates, who spent a section of the happy moments with us. They have become the most important thing in my life, I will always cherish it.

After returning, I still can not forget the life in Lanka. I hope that I could have the opportunity to learn Sinhala in the University of Colombo again. In the dead of night, I always miss my teachers in Sri Lanka. I wish them to be success in their work...

Finally, I once again thank the University of Colombo. 'Baohouma sududi!'
